COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE

SATURDAY EVENING, SEPT. 24.

RATES of Discount in the London Money market continue unaltered, and quotations come unchanged for Consols and French Rentes, but the 3½ per cent. Indian Sterling Loan is ⅛, and Enfaced Rupee Paper ¼ lower.

Metals show a general advance, Copper being quoted 10s. higher in Wallaroos and £1 per ton in Braziers. Yellow metal Braziers are ¼d. per lb., Spelter 5s. per ton up.

In the produce markets, Coffee and Cocoanut-Oil are unchanged. Linseed is unaltered. Rapeseed comes partially 6d. dearer on the spot, but unchanged to arrive. Wheat is reported strong with an advance of 1s. to 1s. 3d. per quarter in London arrival quotations.

Reuter's report of the Manchester Piece-goods market is firm but little doing, which is practically what private messages say. Guided by the firmness in Cotton, and being well under contract for sometime ahead, manufacturers are very stiff about selling, and so far as this market is concerned only a very limited business is being put through.

The Liverpool Cotton market yesterday was firm, sales 12,000 bales, and to-day's report is strong, sales 10,000 bales, the proportion of Surats being 800 each day. Spot prices are unaltered, but American deliveries were 1-32d. to 1-16d. higher yesterday, and advanced again to the same extent to-day. In New York yesterday, ready Mid-Uplands were unaltered at 11⅛ cents, December shipment 8 points higher at 11·88, and to-day the quotations are advanced to 12 cents and 11·97 cents per lb. respectively.

We subjoin our usual comparison of the statistical position of the staple. The Liverpool stock has been reduced by 13,000 bales during the week, but the total visible supply has increased by 50,000 bales, and will now go on increasing as the receipts at the American ports develop. These latter, however, continue on a comparitively moderate scale, and should they not show signs of gaining on last year's figures more rapidly than they are now doing, we may look for much smaller crop estimates coming into favour shortly. In that case the speculators for the September corner will have their hands materially strengthened, and instead of having the price of Mid-Uplands recede, we might see values of other descriptions move up to something like the same level.

The American crop figures to date give the following comparisons with the two previous seasons:—

	1881.	1880.	1879.
Week's Receipts	110,000	136,000	130,000
,, Exports to U. K.	42,000	31,000	17,000
,, ,, to Continent	2,000	17,000	1,200
Total Receipts since 1st Sept.	280,000	321,400	249,600
,, Exports to U. K. ,,	112,000	128,600	51,000
,, ,, to Continent ,,	8,000	31,700	3,000
,, Stock in the Ports	312,000	256,000	194,000
Saturday's Receipts	16,000	21,200	23,000

The total visible supply of Cotton for all Europe on the 23rd instant, compares with the two previous years as follows:—

	1881.	1880.	1879
Total supply of all kinds	1,750,000	1,307,490	970,270
,, ,, ,, Surats	409,000	341,940	384,000

For the U. K. only the figures are:—

Stock in Liverpool	693,000	534,040	286,920
,, London	44,000	53,800	62,620
American Afloat	110,000	100,000	42,000
E. Indian ,,	56,000	54,000	77,000
	903,000	741,900	468,610
Price of Mid-Uplands	7¼d.	7 1-16d.	6 11-16d.
,, Fair Dholleras	4¼d.	4 15-16d.	5¼d.
Difference..	3d.	2⅛d.	1 9-16d.

EXCHANGE.—With Bar Silver in London unaltered and nothing of a disturbing character on this side, the market to-day has shown no movement of any kind. The tone has been quiet but steady, and only a very limited extent of business has been done. Closing quotations are:—

Bank 4 months on demand	1s. 7 13-16d.	per rupee.
Do. telegraphic	1s. 7 25-32d.	,,
Do 3 months' sight	1s. 7 31-32d.	,,
Credits, 4 ,, ,,	1s. 8 1-16d.	,,
Documents, 3 ,, ,,	1s. 8 3-32d.	,,
Francs 3 ,, ,,	2·12½	,,

On Calcutta rates are unchanged.

GOVERNMENT PAPER has been weak with only a limited amount of transactions reported, and values are again easier, Fours having receded to Rs. 101½ and Fours-and-a-half to Rs. 110½.

THE SHARE MARKET has been practically closed for the Parsi holidays.

COTTON continues very firm under the influence of the home advices, and a fair extent of business has been done at fully yesterday's rates. The demand runs mainly on Omras, of which, however, the supply is of so limited in quantity and so inferior in quality, that exporters' hands are, to a great extent, tied in putting through business.

SEEDS are unaltered in value. WHEAT is in fair request, but partially annas 8 per candy lower, owing to the continued rise in homeward freights.

FREIGHTS show great strength for both September and October loading, the supply of tonnage available in that interval being apparently much less than our requirements. Several fresh charters are reported for November-December loading, but for anything later charterers are less anxious to commit themselves.

PIECE-GOODS keep very dull, and notwithstanding the encouraging tenor of the home advices, no improvement in values has, or seems likely to take place. The simple fact seems to be that both here and up-country the markets are overdone with supplies, and until they are reduced to a smaller compass, dealers are not likely to operate largely in advance.

COALS are dull for early shipment, but steady for later. The sale is reported of a small lot of Cardiff at Rs. 14¼—an absurdly low price—as a cargo of the same quality was sold a day before at Rs. 15.

The Bombay Gazette

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 26, 1881.

If the messenger to Chaman is worthy of credit, Ayoub Khan is, for the present at least, hors de combat, and, for the second time in twelve months, a fugitive to Herat. He has lost a battle in which the losses on both sides are reported to have been heavy, and he and his sirdars have fled, abandoning guns and baggage as on the day when General Roberts avenged Maiwand. Kandahar, it is said, is defenceless, though strangely enough, according to the "messenger," the victorious Abdul Rahman has not entered it. The confirmation of the news of this momentous turn in Afghan affairs will be awaited with great interest by all India. If Ayoub were really mad enough to contemplate a holy war against the British, his overthrow by the Amir may be the means of averting a new campaign in Southern Afghanistan, the result of which, in a military point of view, would no doubt be satisfactory enough, but, in its financial aspect, would make Major Baring very doleful. Ayoub, of course, may recover from this defeat, as he recovered from the last. He appears to be a young man of considerable energy and recuperative power. But sufficient for the day is evil thereof. If he be now a ruined adventurer, flying for his life to Herat, it is highly improbable that he will be able to vex the finances of India by a jehad for a year or two at least, and in the interval many things may happen.

SIMLA, like Poona, has been busy opening a Fine Arts Exhibition, and the Governor-General, like the Governor of Bombay, has availed himself of the opportunity to make a speech. His Excellency the Governor of Bombay spoke very well upon matters pertaining to art, and only diverged from that theme to give expression to the feelings so generally evinced with regard to the fate of President Garfield. We are not yet in possession of the full report of the speech of the Viceroy, which our correspondent telegraphs was an admirable one, touching upon all the points appertaining to the arts display. But it appears that His Excellency, alluding to what we can well understand is the cramped accommodation afforded in Simla for the holding of an exhibition, "hinted" that he was in favour of erecting a building on the Simla Ridge. Now this is the point to which we wish to direct attention, even before the full text of Lord Ripon's speech comes to hand. It is altogether undesirable that public funds should be expended upon big buildings in Simla, as if that out-of-the-way hill station were to be made, in very deed, the capital of India, instead of the site of a "shooting-box" to which Governor-Generals may occasionally escape from the heat of the plains. Simla is altogether too remote from the centre of affairs to be converted by degrees into a capital. It is a hill station, and a very inconvenient hill station, and nothing more. When the Government has money to spare for the erection of buildings which are indispensable for the purposes of a capital to supersede Calcutta during the horrors of the hot season there, a site more convenient and, for all practical purposes, just as salubrious might easily be found. The advantages possessed by Poona are by no means unworthy of serious consideration. It is not only close to the nearest port for Europe, but it is in easy communication with Madras and Calcutta. A large city already exists with a population capable of indefinite expansion. Nasik would, no doubt, be a better site, sick[illegible] a sufficient supply of water all the if there were [illegible]ould be a question for engineering experts, whether the immense volumes of water which the bed of the Godavery carries to the sea during the rainy season could be retained and utilised for the purposes of a great city. If so, the Government of India ought to lay out its money in erecting its public buildings on the healthful and bracing site above the Thul Ghaut, rather than away at Simla. It is impossible that the Empire can be safely administered for half the year from a small hill station remote from public opinion, and all the salutary and informing influences which the large population of a regular capital can alone supply. As it is, the members of Government form a clique apart, and easily fall a prey to the only influence to which they are really subject—that of untempered toadyism. It is not too much to say that the crowning blunders which brought the Lytton administration into hopeless discredit would never have been committed had the Government been carried on in a real capital, where the members of the Viceregal Mutual Adulation Society would have heard what the world was [illegible]ually saying of its Afghan policy and its [illegible]ellous budget. India cannot endure in[illegible]ely the absence of the Supreme Govern[illegible] a hill which would be convenient for the administration of Thibet; and it is therefore with concern that we find Lord Ripon dropping any "hint" that he views with favour the project of building on the Simla Ridge an edifice for the holding of Art Exhibitions in saecula saeculorum in those distant solitudes.

"AND Aaron shall lay both his hands upon the head of the live goat, and confess over him all the iniquities of the children of Israel, and all their transgressions in all their sins, putting them upon the head of the goat, and shall send him away by the hand of a fit man into the wilderness. And the goat shall bear upon him all their iniquities into a land not inhabited; and he shall let go the goat in the wilderness." The above description is at once suggested by some particulars which a correspondent has sent us regarding votive animals in the Lahore cholera epidemic, which is believed to have destroyed two thousand natives, and nearly one hundred Europeans. The other day a large multitude of people congregated at one of the city gates to assist at the consecration of a goat which was being offered alive to Ooloomya, the goddess of cholera. The animal was adorned with ribbons and garlands; and an old man nearly wrought himself into a frenzy as he made mysterious gesticulations over the head and back of the animal, and in a shrill sing-song chanted his incantations:—What had the people done to offend Ooloomya? the people were in grief and fear at having incurred Ooloomya's wrath; would Ooloomya accept this offering, and avert the plague? And so the goat, having appeared as a public character of considerable importance for once in his life, was released and driven off in the direction of the broad maidan which lies between the fort and the Ravee. Votive offerings of this sort have been, we are told, very numerous at Lahore during the last three months. Rams, when offered, are spotted all over with red, or blue, or green. It seems that Ooloomya is not personally represented at any of these superstitious rites. With Sheetola, the small-pox goddess, the case is different; she is symbolized by a mask painted with vermilion, and dotted over with what look like the heads of copper nails. The effect is hideous. Other devices, says our correspondent, which the people have tried, for appeasing the cholera deity, have the advantage of being less expensive, and equally efficacious; they consist chiefly in tom-toming, ringing bells, shouting, firing off crackers, and shooting up in the air. The din is continued into the small hours, when either the evil spirits who spread abroad the disease are scared, or the rioters are too exhausted to prolong their exertions.

Superstitions of this kind must of course be long expected to flourish in British India; but the extent to which those rites, by all accounts, supersede more hopeful cures and preventives in the northern city says little for the capital of the model province. For one Lahorean who whitewashes and fumigates his premises, and utilizes the conservancy cart, there are a thousand who fire off crackers at midnight, and send scapegoats into the wilderness. The butchers would sooner devote the night to drumming and chanting than waste five minutes on the scrubbing of their tables. There is a disgusting and horrible story that the butchers, in a certain portion or suburb of Lahore, laid out on their shop-tables, pending burial, the bodies of members of their community who had died of cholera. This was by no means a bad way of propagating the disease. We presume the tables were burnt, and their owners flogged. We may observe in passing that the (very natural) reluctance of natives, especially of the poor classes, to burn such of their goods and chattels as may have been used by cholera patients constitutes a serious obstacle against the enforcement of sanitary precautions. For the sake of preserving a wretched charpoy, worth a few annas, natives will conceal the fact of the cholera visitation, and ascribe the death to that conveniently comprehensive distemper, buchar—fever. Perhaps, too, the native policemen, who are entrusted with the duty of reporting deaths, may not in all cases be above the reach of a petty bribe. It would be a good plan to reimburse at the expense of the municipality, all persons whose property had been destroyed for the sake of preventing the spread of disease. In fact, Bombay and Calcutta are perhaps the only two cities in British India in which sanitation is really appreciated by at least a section of the community; and in Calcutta and Bombay we know how very difficult it is to get the bare A. B. C. of the laws of health into the heads of even persons who are wealthy and publicly drive about in purple and fine linen. Many a millionaire, who to outward seeming is pure as the running brook, may at home live among sights and smells which would stun a crocodile. And the municipal member who erst, in committee, delivered a warm oration on the beauties of conservancy, may, in the gloaming, be seen stretched on a charpoy beside the fetid open sewer which runs past his dwelling, stretched lengthways by it, so that not a whiff of the foul odour may be lost upon him. Still something has been effected, and more may be hoped for as education spreads. Even in Europe sanitary precautions are only enforced by the vigour of the authorities, the majority of the populations being stupidly indifferent to them.

DURING the first five days of last week the fall of rain on the coast from Cochin to Ratnagiri was continuous, and in some places heavy; but at Bombay and to the northward there was little or none, except at Surat, where about an inch was registered on the 18th and 19th. During the week ending with the 20th of September only a few showers were recorded at the stations within the line of the Ghats. In the dry zone, at Bangalore, there was moderate rain every day from the 14th to the 20th, and on one day, the 18th, an inch-and-a-half fell; at Secunderabad more than an inch was recorded on the 19th; at Bellary, light rain on each of two days; and at Sholapur, showers on the 20th and 21st. In Berar, in the Central Provinces, and in the contiguous portion of Central India the fairly heavy rain which began on the 11th, continued until the 14th, when another break set in. In other parts of Central India there have been light showers nearly every day. In Rajputana generally moderate and continuous rain has fallen. In Gujerat and Cutch the fall has been continuous, and for two or three days heavy. The barometer fell rapidly from Sunday, the 18th, till Tuesday. It then rose till Thursday, and has since remained fairly steady. The fall was accompanied by a temporary strengthening of the south-west monsoon wind, and by increased rainfall to southward; but the wind has now ceased, and with it the heavy rainfall. The difference of atmospheric pressure between the coast and the interior is at present less than it has been since the commencement of the monsoon, and all along the coast the skies are clearing and the air is becoming less humid,—facts which indicate that the monsoon is drawing to a close. There is, however, still some prospect of rain in the eastern districts of the Bombay Presidency and in the Southern Mahratha Country.

TO-DAY'S telegrams state that the renewal of agitation in Ireland is causing great anxiety in London. The fact that the agitation has been "renewed," i. e., has not ceased on the passing of the Land Act, will surprise no one who understands the real nature of the movement which the Land Act was designed to head off. The Land League never asked for the Land Act, but for something very different. The truth of the matter is set forth with clearness and force in the following passages of a long article in the current Fortnightly on "Radicals and Irish Ideas":—

When once the Irish tenants have taken in that the landlords are simply incumbrances, they are not, to judge from past experience, at all likely to sit down patiently under the burden. They have got, as they will put it, the land, and so far their long labour has been successful. But they have got it so sudden as to make the enjoyment of it quite more than nominal, and the next thing for them to do will be to turn the name into a reality. Nor will the powerful ally who has helped the tenants in the past be wanting to them in the future. Mr. Parnell, as we know, would never have taken off his coat on behalf of the Land League if he had not believed that the question of Ireland could be made to minister to the cause of Home Rule. But the cause of Home Rule will not be really helped by any agitation which does not commit the tenant to some demand in connection with the land which the Imperial Parliament will refuse. It would be rash, no doubt, to say beforehand what the Imperial Parliament will refuse, but it is pretty certain that it will draw a line somewhere, and that Mr. Parnell will in the end be able to point to a concession upon which the Irish tenant has set his heart, but which he cannot hope to get until he has a legislature of his own. Mr. Parnell, therefore, will have precisely the same motive for starting a new agitation that he had for starting the former one. . . . There is no evidence . . . that the Land Bill is really the expression of the best Irish ideas, or indeed of any considerable number of Irish ideas of any kind. In disproof of this statement, I shall be referred perhaps to the report of the Bessborough Commission. . . . But even as regards the report of the majority of the Bessborough Commission—speaking of it without reference to its singular treatment of rebutting testimony, or to its weakness for leading questions—I feel no confidence that it represents the genuine opinion of its authors on the best land system for Ireland. It is far more probable that it represents a very different thing—the opinion of its authors as to the maximum of concession that a Liberal Government was likely to propose, or a Liberal House of Commons likely to accept. "In the case of the Land Bill," says Mr. Morley, in the article to which I have already referred, "the present writer is not the only person who is firmly convinced, after a tolerably attentive observation of what has gone on, that if the whole body of Irish members had been sent upstairs to work out a Land Bill of their own, whether at the initiative of Mr. Gibson and Mr. Plunket, or of Mr. Litton, Mr. Shaw, and Mr. Parnell, they would in less time have produced a more effective, and possibly a more just, measure than that which the collective wisdom of the two Houses will by-and-by send limping and hot-footed into the world." Supposing that this had been done—in the case of a Scotch Land Bill it would have been done to a considerable extent—the Irish members would probably have argued thus: "The point upon which there is the largest measure of agreement is the expediency of increasing the number of Irish proprietors. We are all—from Mr. Gibson to Mr. Parnell—anxious to do this, and we all admit that it must be done upon the principle of buying out the landlord. Where we differ is as to the precise terms on which he ought to be bought out, but though the settlement of this question may involve a great deal of troublesome actuar

DEFEAT OF AYOUB KHAN BY THE AMIR.

(FROM THE PRESS COMMISSIONER).

SIMLA, SEPT. 25.

A messenger to Chaman reports that the Amir defeated Ayoub on the 22nd. Two Kabuli regiments deserted, and Ayoub decided on an action. Ayoub and the sirdars fled to Herat, abandoning guns and baggage. The losses on both sides are heavy.

The Amir has not entered the city, but it was defenceless.

THE SIMLA FINE ARTS EXHIBITION.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

SIMLA, SEPT. 21.

The opening of the Fine Arts Exhibition took place this afternoon. His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab spoke eloquently on the success of the institution. His Excellency the Viceroy responded in an admirable speech, touching on all the points appertaining to the exhibition. Lord Ripon also alluded to the cramped accommodation afforded in Simla for such a purpose, and hinted that his views were in favour of such a building as that contemplated on the Simla Ridge.

His Excellency the Viceroy's band was in attendance. Visitors were not so numerous on the opening day as on previous occasions, owing probably to the limited space at Ravenswood.

His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor and His Excellency the Viceroy, both alluded to the kindness of the Maharaja of Fureedkote in placing his house at the disposal of the committee for the current year's exhibition.

THE MULTAN RIOTS.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

LAHORE, SEPT. 25.

The state of affairs at Multan is not improved. A special telegram to the Civil and Military Gazette says that the Hindus are very contumacious and defiant. Both parties are only prevented by the presence of the military, who still occupy the city, from attacking each other again. Extra police have been sent by order of the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab, but the city cannot yet be entrusted to their guardianship.

The animosity between the two parties is purely local, but very bitter.

THE Bombay Tramway Company, having completed the extension to the Grant-road railway station, intends, we observe, to construct a tramway with double track along the Esplanade Cross-road over Carnac Bridge, and thence along Frere-road to the Wari Bunder level crossings. The Municipal Commissioner proposes to apply for the sanction of Government to this extension within a fortnight. One hundred horses are on the way out to Bombay for the Grant-road branch, the expected opening of which, on the 1st proximo, has been postponed, pending the arrival of the horses.

THE Viceroy and Lady Ripon will probably leave Calcutta, on a visit to Rangoon, about the 20th December, returning early in January.

ACCORDING to the Allahabad paper nothing has been done really towards re-opening the case of the ex-Gaekwar of Baroda, as some interested persons have endeavoured to represent.

WE hear that the agitation against the water-rates at Sholapore is increasing. A meeting of the inhabitants was held in the Malikarjun temple and was attended by several thousand persons. Resolutions were passed in favour of the adoption of a new system of rating.

WE hear it rumoured that Mr. H. Curwen is likely to have the offer of the post of Consul for the Danubian Principalities.

THE British Government have asked the Portuguese Government for consent to thank the Portuguese authorities at Mozambique for the assistance rendered by them to English explorers in Africa.

SENHOR CORDEIRO, who declined some time since, on account of ill-health, to take charge of the construction of the Goa railway on behalf of the Portuguese Government, is now reported to have accepted the post of Chief Engineer, and will shortly arrive at Goa.

THE various Government offices will leave Simla about the 15th of November, and will be reformed in Calcutta by the 28th.

THE question of the education of the poor Europeans and Eurasians is now said to be occupying the earnest attention of Lord Ripon and the Government.

THE Lahore paper states that there is no truth in the report that the Public Works Membership of Council is to be revived in the person of Sir Andrew Clarke, but the question of the P. W. Member is not completely abandoned.

WHAT municipalities can do if they try may be seen from the report of the Delhi Municipality for the year 1880-81. Their income was increased that year by over Rs. 45,000; this increase being due, in great measure, simply to better management.

THE India Portugueza says that an address has been issued to the people of Bardez (Goa), inviting them to give their vote in the general election for a representative in the House of Deputies, Lisbon, in favour of Rev. David do Rozario and Souza, the present vicar of Matheran. The Rev. gentleman has occupied for several years the chair of a Professor in Philosophy.

IT is stated that Captain Vousden, 5th Punjab Cavalry, who distinguished himself in the fighting round Sherpur, is to receive the Victoria Cross. On the 14th December, 1879, Captain Vousden, with only twelve sowars of the 5th Punjab Cavalry, charged a large body of Safis close under the walls of Kabul. Between 20 and 30 of the enemy were killed in the melée.

THE Indian Spectator:—"We trust the Jam-i-Jamehid is misinformed as to the Parsi convict, lately postmaster at Jamnagar, being required by the jail authorities to be yoked, like a bullock for road repairing. The jail authorities will please to understand that though a felon, Dadabhai is a man and a brother——yes, their brother."

THE Bill with reference to stowaways which Mr. Whitley Stokes is going to introduce into the Legislative Council owes its origin, in a great measure, it is said, to a long report on the subject which was lately submitted by His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal. Besides the Stowaway Bill, something also has been done lately to prevent natives of India being cast adrift at European ports, in a state of destitution.

THE Governor-General in Council has decided to appoint a special committee to inquire into the sanitary conditions of the principal places in the Punjab, which have suffered, or may suffer, from cholera during the present season. The committee will shortly assemble at Lahore, and will probably have for its President Colonel C. H. Hall, Commissioner of the Rawalpindi division.

THE Indian Spectator says:—"These Multan disturbances are becoming a source of anxiety, if not danger. Why will not the Mahomedans eat what food they like without making a parade of it before the weak-stomached Hindus? And why will not the Hindus let alone this cow-question, which they have created to worry themselves? The authorities had better see if there is nothing more serious than a slaughtered cow at the bottom of this agitation."

GOVERNMENT having recognized the great difficulty experienced by the mounted branches of the service in procuring grass for their horses, has sanctioned the utilization of the moveable column establishments for the purpose of cutting and bringing grass, whenever they are not required for any purely Government work. The work may be done irrespectively of the time of year: a previous order, issued in 1873, had prescribed certain periods, viz., from 15th September to the end of October.

GOVERNMENT have sanctioned a free grant to the Simla Municipality of Rs. 2,72,745, a sum by which it is estimated the completion of the water-works will exceed the seven lakhs granted as a loan to the Municipality, and contributed by it to the water-works. Government have also sanctioned a reduction from 4½ to 4 per cent. of the interest to be paid on the loan of seven lakhs, on condition that the Municipality continue to pay the half per cent. towards a sinking fund, to be applied to reduction of the debt.

THE Persian Consul-General, Mirza Fazloolla Khan, delivered a kind letter of condolence from His Majesty the Shah of Persia to His Highness the Honourable Aga Ali Shah on Thursday last, which was read in a large assemblage of Persians at His Highness's residence in Civil Lines, Poona. His Majesty the Shah has expressed a deep sense of regret at the loss of His late Highness Aga Khan, and sympathises with the present Aga and the family on the loss of the great personage, and the Shah has invited them to expect similar kindness towards the present Aga as heretofore shown to the late Aga Khan.

IN connection with the agrarian question, Native Opinion observes that one of the Home Rule party, Mr. Blake, M. P., is next month expected to arrive in Bombay with the intention of examining this question and to consider the possibility of growing corn in this country, so as to make the United Kingdom less dependent upon supplies from Russia and the States of North America. If he takes the trouble to put himself in communication with the Poona Sarvajanik Sabha, he may obtain some valuable information; but if he is taken in hand by Government officials, he will probably be allowed to see only one side of the agrarian question.

BEFORE long General Hume at Quetta will hardly have one of his original staff left with him; another officer having found it necessary to go to England. Lieutenant-Colonel Little, B. S. C., who joined General Hume, whilst en route to Kandahar, as Assistant Adjutant-General, has obtained two years' furlough on medical certificate. Major A. Fitzgerald, B. S. C., Deputy Assistant Adjutant-General of the force, may possibly succeed to the vacancy; but the Pioneer thinks it is more than probable that the appointment will be given to an officer serving in the Bombay Presidency.

THE Statesman says that the Mysore blue-book, which will contain very full reports and despatches on the subject of the alleged deficiencies in the Mysore jewel department, was to have been published two or three days after the last mail left London. Our contemporary is enabled to state most confidently, in anticipation of its arrival, that it does not contain one word in contradiction or explanation of the statements made in the memorandum of "E. B.," published in its columns on the 7th of April, 1880, or anything to weaken the demand for a revaluation of the jewels and a serious investigation.

THE crop and weather report of the N. W. P. and Oudh for the week ending September 21 shows that except local storms in a few places showers only fell during the week. More rain would be beneficial for late kharif and the rabi ploughings. Harvesting and ploughing commenced. Except juar in Jhansi crops generally in good condition. Prices risen slightly in Bareilly and Moradabad, elsewhere stationary or falling. Autumnal fever generally prevalent, and cholera continues in Meerut. Cattle-disease continues in Kumaon, and is increasing in Jhansi.

WARRANT and non-commissioned officers on the unattached list are now placed under the same rules as commissioned officers as regards being allowed to reckon furlough or leave, necessitated by wounds or illness contracted by active service in the field, as service towards pension; but the maximum amount allowed will be only twelve months, whereas the maximum for commissioned officers is eighteen months. This concession is to have retrospective effect from the commencement of the operations in Afghanistan in 1879-80. In order to be able to claim this service, the immediate departure of the officer must be necessitated, and the medical committee before which he appears must certify that the disability originated on field service, and is solely caused by unusual exposure and hardship in the field, or by wounds received in action.

Native Opinion does not approve of a constitution for Baroda:—Until we see the ipsissimi verba of the proposed constitution, we shall decline to believe in anything simply because our contemporary the Gazette believes it. If Bombay is not fit to manage its municipal affairs without the leading strings of the Secretariat, we fail to see how a cut and dried constitution can be forced on the Maharaja of Baroda, before he has assumed charge of his State, and has had an opportunity of looking into things for himself. We do not appreciate rose-coloured pictures of constitutions anywhere. But seeing what we are in Bombay and Calcutta, we cannot be far wrong in our estimates of our Baroda neighbours. We must define out meaning by saying that we here speak of the people of Baroda, and not the few importations made by the new administration. For unless these latter can pretend to have exercised some supermundane influence, we do not see what right they have to assume an achievement which the best English statesmen in British India have not yet succeeded in accomplishing, viz., the transformation of the character of a large population within seven years.

WEATHER REPORT (BERAR).—The Secretary for Berar announces that there was at the end of August cholera in all six districts; cattle-disease in Akola, Amraoti, Buldana, and Bassim districts; cowpox in Buldana, and H. S. Kerr, which resulted in proving that the latter gentleman was not in Bombay on the date of the application for the Rs. 200. This information having been obtained on the authority of the Roman Catholic Bishop of Bombay, the Rev. Dr. Meurin, the facts of the case were immediately communicated to the police, who are taking the necessary steps to trace the individual out. With this object the Rev. J. Colgan has highlighted the discovery made of false personation by some person unknown, complied with the request contained in the Parell message, and has replied to it by telegraph intimating the despatch of the money. The police having received the necessary instructions to arrest the receiver both at the post-office and telegraph-office at Parell, it will not, we hope, be long, before we hear of the detection of the culprit.—Madras Times, Sept. 23.

RESOLUTION OF THE GOVERNMENT OF INDIA, No. 1174-80 of 1868.

RESOLUTION.—Having briefly recapitulated the action that has followed on the circular orders of 1867, in respect of those fares and rates the control of which was reserved by the Government of India, and having thus practically exemplified the general policy which the Government of India desired to see followed, the Governor-General in Council is now pleased to declare, in accordance with the recently expressed wishes of the Secretary of State, that the maxima of all fares and rates shall henceforth be fixed by Local Governments, that the actual charges within such maxima shall be regulated by the railway companies, and that the maxima shall leave a reasonable margin for the exercise of discretion by the companies in varying the working rates, as circumstances may, in their opinion, require.

Any modifications of the maxima that may from time to time be made should be reported to the Government of India for information. It has already been ordered that the actual fares and rates charged should be stated in the reviews of the revenue accounts.

M. K. KENNEDY, Colonel, R. E.,

Secretary to Government.

The Chamber of Commerce, Bombay, 8th September, 1881.

No. 202 of 1881.

To the UNDER-SECRETARY to GOVERNMENT, Public Works Department (Railway).

SIR,—I am directed by the Committee of the Chamber of Commerce to acknowledge with their thanks, the receipt of your letter No. 1916, dated 29th July last, forwarding a copy of a Resolution of the Government of India, No. 1174-80 of 1868, and a copy of the notification from the Bombay Government Gazette of 30th April, 1868, publishing maximum rates, &c., for the guaranteed railway companies under the control of the Bombay Government.

In this Resolution it is declared that the maxima of all fares and rates shall be fixed by the Local Government, and that the maxima shall leave a reasonable margin for the exercise of a discretion by the railway companies in varying the working rates, as circumstances may, in their opinion, require. It appears, however, to the Chamber that the maxima of all fares and rates, especially those for the carriage of grain, fixed by the notification of 30th April, 1868, are unnecessarily and excessively high; and in view of the recent arbitrary action of the G.I.P. Railway Company,—an action which may be repeated at any time—the Committee respectfully desire to urge upon H. E. the Governor in Council the advisability of his using the power, which he has under the Resolution above-mentioned, of revising these maximum rates and reducing them considerably. If His Excellency, however, does not consider it expedient to reduce the maximum rates all round, they sincerely hope that he will reduce the maximum rates for the carriage of grain, upon the trade in which the prosperity of this Presidency so largely depends. The published statements of the G. I. P. Railway Company show that the actual results of the working of the traffic generally are sufficiently remunerative, and, in submitting its request for a considerable reduction in the maximum rates now fixed, the Chamber need only remind His Excellency of the great importance of promoting the trade of the Presidency in its competition with other countries.—I have, &c.,

J. GORDON, Secretary.

Bombay Castle, 20th September, 1881.

To the SECRETARY to the CHAMBER of COMMERCE, Bombay.

SIR,—I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter, dated 8th September, in which you state that, in the opinion of the Chamber of Commerce, the maxima of fares and rates fixed for the Bombay guaranteed railways by notification of 30th April, 1868, especially those for the carriage of grain, are unnecessarily and excessively high, and suggest that the Governor in Council should, in view of the recent action of the G. I. P. Railway Company in raising their rates for grain, revise and considerably reduce these maximum rates for food-grains, if not all round.

In reply I am directed to observe that the rates now charged by the G. I. P. Railway Company for carriage of food grains are considerably within the maximum, and to state that, under the circumstances, the Governor in Council does not feel himself to be in a position to accede to the request of the Chamber, or to interfere with the discretionary power vested in the Board of Directors with the approval of the Government of India and the Secretary of State by the notification in question.—I have, &c.,

J. W. HANCOCK, Colonel, R. E.,

Joint-Secretary to Government.

HIGH COURT.—SEPTEMBER 24.

(Before the Hon'ble Mr. Justice WEST.)

A REFERENCE TO ARBITRATION.

SEWJEE RAMJEE VS. PURSHOTUM GOVINDJEE.

MR. KIRKPATRICK, instructed by Messrs. Hore, Conroy, and Brown, for the defendant, said that in this case an order was signed in chambers by Mr. Justice Bayley on the 22nd August last, but that the Prothonotary objected on the ground that an application should be made in court. The learned counsel therefore applied that the further proceedings in the Commissioner's office be stayed until further order, and that the suit and matters in difference, referred to the Commissioner, be referred instead to the arbitration of Dosa Kirpal, he to make his award within four months from the sealing of the order, with power to enlarge the time for three months, and he to decide the costs of the suit, of the reference, and of the award. Mr. Telang, instructed by Messrs. Shapurjee and Thukurdas, for the plaintiff, consented; and his Lordship made the order accordingly.

A CLAIM MADE BY MR. KESSOWJEE NAIK.

KESSOWJEE NAIK vs. SAKARCHAND NAGARDAS.

THE Advocate-General, Mr. Lang, Mr. Inverarity, and Mr. Telang, instructed by Messrs. Hearn, Cleveland, and Little, appeared for the plaintiff; and Mr. Starling and Mr. Jardine, instructed by Messrs. Jefferson, Bhaishanker, and Dinshaw, for the defendant. The plaintiff's claim was that he might be declared entitled to recover from defendant Rs. 34,000, the balance of Rs. 2,00,000, entrusted by him to the defendant for the purchase of shares of the New Fleming Spinning and Weaving Company, and to recover the value of 505 shares which had been detained by the defendant, at the rate of Rs. 366 per share.

Further evidence for the defendant was called.

Mr. Premchand Roychand said.—I am a share-broker and am well acquainted with Nursey Kessowjee and the plaintiff and the defendant. In the beginning of December, 1878, I remember delivering 505 shares of the New Fleming Company to the defendant. I bought and delivered them to the defendant by order of Nursey and Kessowjee. It was a cash transaction. Nursey wanted to buy more shares of the New Fleming Company. I got all my orders for the purchase of shares from Nursey. He told me to buy 200 or 300 New Flemings. I was to buy if he could make an arrangement for a loan. I went to E. D. Sassoon and Co. to raise a loan on the shares; but I failed, and in consequence thereof the shares were not bought.

Cross-examined by Mr. Telang.—I bought the shares about the 15th December, 1878, at Rs. 355, Rs. 375, and Rs. 375-8 per share. I have no personal recollection of the purchase. I speak to this memorandum I made yesterday. (Witness was told not to refer to the memorandum, as it was not made at the time.) I bought the shares through three brokers, who delivered the shares and received payment.

The judge.—I thought you yourself were a broker.

Mr. Premchand.—Yes, my Lord; but I employ other brokers to work under me.

Chuggon Mahadeo, a clerk in a mehta in the firm of Wadilal Sakarchand. When the shares in this case were required for inspection, the defendant handed them to me; and the bundle produced in court contains the same shares as then. I have made a list of numbers of the shares, put down both the names of the persons in whose names the shares stand, and the numbers and quantity of the shares. I have distinguished the three kinds of shares in ink of three different colours.

Mr. Starling said this was the case for the defendant.

Mr. Telang asked for leave, according to the understanding come to at the opening of the case, to call rebutting evidence.

Mr. Inverarity objected; but his Lordship ruled that rebutting evidence on two or three points was admissible. Evidence for the plaintiff was called accordingly.

Keelshoy Cullianjee said, among other things, that an entry in his firm's books dated 20th November, 1878, showed that, on that date, Rs. 13,750 were advanced to Nursey Kessowjee and Co. on the security of 50 New Flemings.

One or two other witnesses were examined, and the court adjourned.

(Before the Hon'ble Sir CHARLES SARGENT.)

THE AFFAIRS OF THE NEW DHURUMSEY MILLS.

NUSSERWANJEE MERWANJEE PANDAY AND OTHERS vs. JOHN GORDON AND OTHERS.

MR. INVERARITY, instructed by Messrs. Crawford and Boevey, appeared for the plaintiffs; the Advocate-General and Mr. Lang, instructed by Messrs. Hearn, Cleveland, and Little, appeared for the first three defendants, Mr. John Gordon, Mr. J. R. Duxbury, and Mr. Joomabhoy Laljee; and Mr. Jardine, instructed by Messrs. Craigie, Lynch, and Owen, represented the New Dhurumsey Spinning and Weaving Company.

The Advocate-General said that a rule was granted on the 11th of August to restrain the agents of the Dhurumsey Poonjabhoy Spinning and Weaving Company from employing Messrs. Hearn, Cleveland, and Little as solicitors of the company. The suit was filed by the plaintiffs, who were the members of the firm of Merwanjee Framjee Panday and Company, against the first three defendants, Messrs. Gordon, Duxbury, and Joomabhoy Laljee, who were some of the directors of the New Dhurumsey Mills, and against the company. The plaintiffs prayed that the defendants might be restrained by an order of the court from permitting any breach of an agreement made on the 26th August, 1874, between the plaintiffs and the company, to prevent them from carrying into effect a resolution appointing Messrs. Hearn, Cleveland, and Little solicitors of the company. The rule was granted by his Lordship on the 11th of August, 1881. It appeared to him (the Advocate-General) that the question was very much a question of law, and almost entirely independent of any question of facts between the parties. The new Dhurumsey Spinning and Weaving Company was registered as a company on the 25th of August, 1874, and it sprang out of the Dhurumsey Poonjabhoy S. and W. company which was registered in the year 1872. Of the old company Cassumbhoy Dhurumsey was the agent, and under the terms of his arrangement with the company, he was entitled to a certain commission at certain specified rates upon the yarn and cloth manufactured by the company. In June, 1874, he entered into an arrangement with the firm of Mr. Merwanjee Framjee Panday, whereby he was to get them appointed agents of the old company. But this having been found impracticable, the arrangement was carried out by an agreement dated the 26th July, 1874, by which it was agreed that the old company should be wound up, and that Cassumbhoy should get Merwanjee Framjee Panday and company appointed agents of the new company for a term of twenty-five years.

His Lordship wanted to know the facts connected with the winding up of the old and the starting of the new company.

The Advocate-General said that by an extraordinary resolution of the shareholders the old company was wound up on the 25th of August, 1874, and the new company started into existence on the 26th August, 1874. From the date of the registration of the new company the firm of Merwanjee Framjee Panday became the agents for a term of twenty-five years. Clause 4 of the memorandum of the articles of association provided that Messrs. Merwanjee Framjee Panday, Nusserwanjee Merwanjee Panday, Dorabjee Framjee Panday, and Dhunjeebhoy Pestonjee Panday, and such other persons constituting the firm of Merwanjee Framjee Panday and Company and carrying on at Bombay the business in Bombay, should be appointed agents of the company for a term of 25 years, to obtain remuneration. Under clause 18 of the articles of association full power and authority were granted to the firm, in their capacity as agents, to enter into any agreement, and employ such secretaries, managers, bankers, solicitors, engineers, clerks, &c., as they should think proper, and in like manner to remove from time to time any persons they liked. The agreement was entered into between the New Dhurumsey mills of the one part, and Messrs. Merwanjee Framjee Panday and Company, with their executors, administrators, assigns, &c., of the other part; and he must say that it was certainly a rather ruinous way to form an agreement with a man's executors, administrators, assigns, &c.

The judge thought that was a mere form, and inquired if Mr. Marriot, insisted upon it and wanted to discuss it.

The Advocate-General said he did not want to make any objection to that.

The judge.—Then it was only a passing remark?

The Advocate-General replied in the affirmative, and continuing, said that Mr. Merwanjee Framjee Panday, who was the principal member of the firm, died on the 6th March, 1876; and at present the supposed members of the firm were the plaintiffs, Nusserwanjee Merwanjee Panday, Dorabjee Framjee Panday, and Dhunjeebhoy Pestonjee Panday, the last of whom had been at the lunatic asylum, and was apparently incapacitated from doing any business now. The first defendant, Mr. Gordon, was a large shareholder in the company; and it appeared from his affidavit that between the months of February and September, 1880, he purchased from about 300 to 400 shares in the company.

The judge remarked that the question was whether the agreement was made between the company and the firm of Merwanjee Panday, or between the company and the three members who actually constituted the firm at the time.

The Advocate-General said the agreement was between the company and the persons constituting the firm at the time.

Mr. Inverarity said that the agreement was with the three persons constituting the firm who were partners now as they were then.

The judge remarked that it was a rather curiously worded agreement.

The Advocate-General said he proposed to deal with the matter subsequently. For the present he might say that he had very good reasons to adduce to the court why the rule should be discharged. As he had stated out, Mr. Gordon had, as a large shareholder, a considerable interest in the company, and the course he had taken was one which was very materially beneficial to the interests of the company.

The judge said that Mr. Gordon might or might not be a well-wisher of the company; but he wanted to know whether what he had done could be done by law. It might be beneficial to remove the agents; but the question was if they could get rid of them.

The Advocate-General said he had not, fortunately, to deal with the matter just then. Then, the learned counsel said, there came another question,—whether, under any circumstance, the court could grant an injunction. His contention was this,—that the agreement in question was a personal agreement, or an agreement for personal service, and consequently it was not such as the court would decree either for specific performance or for an injunction in respect of it. And this agreement having been made for more than three years, the court could not interfere. The three defendants in appointing Messrs. Hearn, Cleveland, and Little solicitors of the company had acted within their rights; but even supposing that they were wrong in so doing, the court could not interfere.

The judge.—On what grounds?

The Advocate-General said he based his contention on the ground that the agreement was for personal service, and therefore one in which the court could not grant an injunction, and that it was an agreement whose duration exceeded three years. The learned counsel continued that the defendants' conduct had been very bitterly impugned. It was said that they had not been acting bonâ fide, and that they had been mere

PROSPECTUS.

THE want of first-class hotel accommodation in Bombay has long been felt, and although many efforts have been made to supply the want, it must be allowed that there is still great room for improvement.

Amongst the most successful attempts which have been made in this direction stands the Byculla Hotel, in Bellasis Road, Byculla, which has up to the present time been leased to, and under the management of, Mr. R. Kelly, and has been carried on by him in connection with the Chowk Hotel at Matheran for the last two years, and has returned a fair interest on the outlay.

The building stands on a piece of freehold ground purchased by Mr. John Treacher in 1863 at a cost of Rs. 13,500, on which he erected the Hotel at a cost which made the total outlay Rs. 1,75,000.

At the rear are extensive stables which stand on a plot of land originally leased to Mr. Treacher, and held with the Hotel by Mr. Kelly for a term, of which fourteen years are unexpired.

The Chowk Hotel at Matheran is a thoroughly well known concern, always cool during the season, and is held at a rental of Rs. 90 per month.

It is proposed now to form a Joint Stock Company for the purchase of the property and of the good-will of the business, and for the carrying on of the concern, and it may be confidently asserted that the result will be satisfactory to those who invest money therein.

Mr. Treacher has agreed to sell the land, lease and building for the sum of Rs. 1,10,000, and Mr. Kelly has agreed to assign the good-will, furniture, horses, carriages, stock in trade, and effects for the sum of Rs. 47,000, of which he is willing to take the sum Rs. 8,000 in fully paid-up shares. Included in the sale are also the furniture and effects of the Chowk Hotel, Matheran. Both the Hotels are admirably situate for business, and well-known concerns.

Mr. Kelly's accounts, which have been examined by Mr. Henry Stead, A.C.A., a copy of whose report is annexed, show that for the year ending in March 1881 a net profit was made which, after allowing for bad debts, stands at the sum of Rs. 11,439-5-7, and this upon the capital of Rs. 1,75,000 would give a return of about 7 per cent. ; but it is expected when the Hotel is properly advertised in the Calcutta, Madras, and Mofussil newspapers a very much larger return will be secured. That the business, which has not yet been advertised at all to any extent, is a sound one, and capable of large development, is shown by the fact that the gross receipts for 1880 exceeded those of 1879 by upwards of Rs. 15,000, and during the last year the receipts from residents at the Hotel have averaged over Rs. 6,850 per month. Mr. Stead's report was tested by Mr. H. R. Cormack with the accounts of the Hotel laid before him and found practically correct.

The property at Byculla has been surveyed by Mr. Arthur W. Forde, C. E., and Mr. Nusserwanjee Chandabhoy C. E., and a copy of their report is annexed.

It is intended to redecorate and in part refurnish the houses, and to introduce such improvements as will render these Hotels still more worthy of support than they are at present.

The Directors have secured the services of Mr. R. Kelly as manager of the Hotel, and have entered into an agreement with him, which can be inspected at the Solicitors' office, where also the Memorandum and Articles of Association can be seen.

The only other agreement is one between Mr. Jeevanjee, as Agent for Mr. Treacher, which can also be inspected, and it only remains to add here that no promotion money has been or will be paid.

Mr. R. Kelly will guarantee interest at 5 per cent. for the first three years, and as part security for the fulfilment of his engagement will deposit with the Directors the shares to be allotted to him.

Application for shares may be made to the BANKERS, Messrs. CUTLER, PALMER & Co., the SOLICITORS, or at the BYCULLA HOTEL.

The following is an extract from the report of Mr. Stead above referred to :—

"From my examination of the book produced by Mr. Kelly I find that the actual profits made during the year ending 31st March 1881, including those made at the Chowk Hotel, Matheran, which was worked in connection with the Byculla Hotel, were Rs. 11,439-5-7, including sundry outstanding accounts due from customers, amounting to Rs. 5,939-5-7, of which (according to Mr. Kelly's estimate) Rs. 1,000 may be considered bad or doubtful. We may safely assume, I think, that the actual profit for that year amounted to not less than Rs. 11,439-5-7. This upon a proposed capital of Rs. 1,75,000 would give a dividend of nearly 7 per cent. It is clear that the business has been carefully attended to and well worked up, as the book shows that the gross receipts for the year ending 31st December 1879 were Rs. 70,328-7-6 against Rs. 85,511-2-10 during the year 1880. The amounts received from the residents at the Hotel (including profits from the Billiard tables) have averaged over Rs. 6,850 per month for the year ending 31st March 1881, or a total for the year of Rs. 82,227-1-4. These facts confirm my view that the dividend of nearly 7 per cent., which would certainly be earned on the proposed capital, could easily be brought up to 10 per cent. by the increased use of the Hotel, obtained through more extended advertising, and the publicity gained by the formation of a public Company to take over the establishment."

The following is the report of Messrs. Forde and Chandabhoy :—

Bombay, 16th August, 1881.

We have, at the request of Mr. Jeevanjee Hormusjee, attorney to John Treacher, Esq., inspected, for the purpose of estimating its present value, the property of the Byculla Hotel, situated at Byculla.

The property is bounded on the east partly by vacant land belonging to Jeevanjee Hormusjee Guzdur and partly by the property of Mr. Gubbay, on the west by the property of Ardaseer Dhunjeebhoy, on the north by the property of the late Jamsetjee Hormusjee Botlewalla and of Eduljee Hormusjee Botlewalla, and on the south by the Bellasis Road.

The property consists of a well-built three-storied house with detached Billiard Room, both of which are in good repair and stand almost wholly upon a freehold piece of land containing by admeasurement 2,250 square yards, or thereabouts ; besides a cook-room, godowns, stables, servants' quarters, all in rear of the main building, and stands on an adjoining plot of land measuring 2,200 square yards, or thereabouts, leased to Mr. Treacher for a term of thirty-one years, of which about fourteen years now remain unexpired.

The cook-room is in a fair condition, but the other outhouses are in a bad state of repair.

The accommodation of the several buildings, in external dimensions, is as follows :—

	Square feet.
The house or the main building, three floors, exclusive of galleries in the upper floors ..	3 by 197 by 61½ =36,316
Front and rear galleries together, in two floors ,, ,,	2 by 207 by 7½ = 3,105
Side galleries do. do. ..	2 by 61½ by 10 = 1,230
Total square feet of main building on freehold ground	40,681
Additional projection of gallery in rear in two floors ..	2 by 150 by 8½ = 2,475
Projecting wing in rear, three floors	3 by 21 by 21 = 1,323
Total square feet main building standing on leasehold ground.	3,798
Billiard Room, one floor ..	1 by 65 by 35 = 2,275
Standing on freehold land with the exception of a portion 35 by 3 =105
Cook-room, one floor, on leasehold ground ...	1 by 40 by 21 = 840
Godowns, do. do. ..	1 by 48 by 17 = 816
Servants' quarters, two floors, on leasehold ground ..	2 by 53 by 28 = 2,428
Stables, one floor, on leasehold ground	1 by 29 by 29) 1 by 60 by 23 ½ =2,221

After a careful consideration of the prominent position of the property, of its nearness to the two principal stations of the two Railway Companies, and of the good state of its principal buildings, we value the property first in a professional point of view, as follows :—

		Rs.
2,250	Square yards of freehold land at Rs. 6 per square yard	13,500
40,681	Square feet main building (exclusive of additional projection of rear gallery and wing) standing upon freehold land at Rs. 2-8-0 per square foot ..	1,01,702
3,798	Square feet, part of main building standing upon leasehold land, to remain in possession about 14 years, at Rs. 1-4-0 per square foot ..	4,747
2,275	Square feet Billiard Room, standing upon freehold land with the exception of a portion in rear, measuring 35 by 3 at Rs. 2-8-0 per square foot ..	5,687
2,200	Square yards leasehold land with 14 years of lease unexpired, at Re. 1 per square yard	2,200
6,315	Square feet outhouses, all standing upon leasehold land, at 6 annas per square foot	2,358

	Deduct—On account of rent of freehold land at Rs. 65 per annum, capitalized at 6 per cent. per annum, present value ..	623
	Total value of land and buildings..	1,29,571

Another mode of valuing the property is on the basis of income, which in this case is at present Rs. 500 a month, or Rs.6,000 per annum, all the rates and taxes, as well as cost of repairs, being paid by the occupier. The above rent is in our opinion rather low, but taking it as the net income and capitalizing it at seventeen years' purchase, Rs.1,02,000 would be the value of the property even at that low rental.

After carefully considering the above estimates we are of opinion that the sum proposed to be charge for this property is fair and reasonable, and well within its real value.
